AURA

Daily Wellness Patch

A daily ritual.
A subscription business.

Flagship launch with staged expansion into adjacent wellness products.

SEEKING $500K–$1.5M IN SEED CAPITAL

The opportunity: simpler daily wellness

Aura targets people who want a wellness routine that fits everyday life.

01

Less preparation

A patch format avoids mixing powders or swallowing pills.

02

A repeatable routine

Thirty individually portioned patches support a daily habit.

03

Room to expand

A familiar format could support products for other wellness needs.

Commercial hypothesis: convenience and repeat use can support subscription adoption.

The product: Daily Wellness Patch

30

PATCHES PER POUCH

One flagship for launch

Individually portioned patches designed for consistent daily use.

Formulation described by management

Stabilized allicin, nutrients, botanicals, adaptogens and probiotics.

Product concept and formulation are distinct from evidence of absorption or efficacy.

Differentiation built around the routine

01

Format

A simple patch routine with no preparation.

02

Brand

Premium packaging gives one flagship a consistent identity.

03

Continuity

Monthly replenishment aligns the offer with daily use.

04

Portfolio

Energy and Recover concepts extend the same format.

Positioning hypotheses. Customer preference, retention and competitive advantage remain unproven.

Development progress and evidence

5+ years

Founder-led development

~$100K

Founder capital invested

~150

Human-use participants

Management reports

Formulation developed and a manufacturing path established. Commercial validation remains ahead.

Next: claims review and a defined scientific and clinical validation plan.

Evidence still required

Human-use work in China was not double-blind. It provides preliminary learning, not proof of efficacy.

Business model: purchase or subscribe

$49.99

One-time purchase

One pouch of 30 patches

$39.99

Monthly subscription

$10 savings per pouch
Approximately 20% below one-time pricing

Management pricing assumptions. Recurring revenue depends on acquisition, retention and fulfillment.

Go-to-market: test acquisition and retention

Paid social and creators	Test messages, creative and conversion.	CAC and conversion
Ambassadors and affiliates	Use performance-linked referrals.	Referral acquisition cost
Retention and CRM	Support onboarding and replenishment.	Month-2 retention and churn
Selective wholesale	Explore relevant retail discovery.	Reorder rate and channel margin

U.S.-first plan. Paid acquisition cost, retention and lifetime value require launch data.

Illustrative subscription unit economics

Per monthly subscription, assuming a referral fee on every order

ITEM	PER SUBSCRIPTION
Subscription revenue	$39.99
Estimated product cost	($2.00)
Referral fee at 20%	($8.00)
Gross contribution before other costs	$29.99

75.0%

Gross contribution
as a share of revenue

Management assumptions. Excludes shipping, fulfillment, payments, paid media, support, compliance, returns, taxes and overhead. Figures rounded. Gross contribution is not profit.

Subscription growth scenarios

Illustrative revenue at $39.99 per active monthly subscriber

ACTIVE SUBSCRIBERS	MONTHLY REVENUE	ANNUALIZED REVENUE
500	$19,995	$239,940
1,000	$39,990	$479,880
2,500	$99,975	$1,199,700
5,000	$199,950	$2,399,400
10,000	$399,900	$4,798,800
20,000	$799,800	$9,597,600

Illustrative scenarios, not a forecast. Annualized figures hold subscribers constant for 12 months and exclude churn, discounts, refunds and taxes.

Expansion roadmap

01

Aura
